EDUCATION PLANNING

EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE REDESIGNED SAT & ACT

Overview

Chris Ajemian, CEO & Founder of CATES Tutoring & Educational Services in New York City, comes to the Bauer Center in Short Hills on May 12th at 7 pm to speak with parents and students about best practices for successfully preparing the Redesigned SAT & ACT. Mr. Ajemian covers the specific changes coming to both exams, the differences in preparation between the current SAT and redesigned SAT, how colleges intend to use scores for the Class of 2017 and beyond, and the proper timelines to ensure success. With over twelve years of helping families all over the world successfully navigate the test prep and college admissions process, Mr. Ajemian provides families with critical insight and a road map for success to maximize your child's chances for admission to his or her first choice college.

Topics include:

- The Fundamental Skills of Successful Test Takers
- Overview of the SAT, ACT, & SAT Subject Tests
- Specific Changes to the SAT & ACT in 2015-16
- Critical Questions (and Answers) for the Class of 2017
- How to Best Support Your Student in the Process
